HIGH SCHOOL

1960-1961 was a representative school year for the students of Gettysburg High School. Upon returning to classes in the fall, they . . . scrutinized new teachers . . . cheered the teams on—sometimes in victory, sometimes in defeat . . . made new friends . . . created stronger bonds with old friends . . . joined clubs . . . rehearsed for plays . . . sold tickets, candles and peanuts . . . contributed to class treasuries and organized drives . . . welcomed the fourth foreign exchange student . . . groaned over homework assignments . . . attended assembly and lyceum programs . . . crammed for examinations . . . enjoyed a record number of snow holidays . . . and squirmed as teachers filled out report cards in class.

However, 1961 saw changes too. Seventh graders moved to Lincoln School. Underclassmen visualized graduation from the new senior high school. Educational standards rose—demanding more specialized courses. High honor lists diminished in size. Editors planned the biggest and best yearbook ever.

All of these things helped make 1961 a year to remember.

During the past few years, the academic standards of Gettysburg High School have been greatly elevated. This improvement would not have been possible if it were not for the Gettysburg Joint School Board. These men and women, through foresight and understanding, have tried to prepare the student body for the increasingly technical life which lies ahead of them. The class of 1961, realizing what a great service they have received, wishes to express its deepest thanks to those who have worked to better our chances in the future.

SUPERINTENDENT OF SCHOOLS

MR. H. EDGAR RIEGLE

Serious and conscientious, Mr. H. Edgar Riegle has a very wide variety of responsibilities as superintendent of the Gettysburg Joint School System. In charge of both the elementary and secondary school programs, Mr. Riegle administers the policies handed down by the school board. The hiring of new teachers is a result of his efforts, and the importance of a smooth-running school is always his concern.

SECRETARY TO THE SUPERINTENDENT

MRS. MABEL H. FOLKENROTH

PRINCIPAL

MR. CLIFFORD B. SNOWBERGER

SECRETARIES TO THE PRINCIPAL

Top: MISS DOROTHY E. FIDLER
Bottom: MISS LOUELLA G. KLINEFELTER

A smile, a firm but fair hand, and the ability to speak effectively are qualities displayed by our high school principal, Mr. Clifford B. Snowberger. Along with his numerous responsibilities, Mr. Snowberger can often be seen enthusiastically urging the students to do their best or cheering the team toward victory at a game. As the high school's public relations man, Mr. Snowberger, going in circles in his swivel chair, meets students graciously as well as many visitors to the school. All of us can sincerely say that Mr. Snowberger has helped us personally at some time during the two years of his principalship.

ASSISTANT PRINCIPAL

MR. PAUL R. MEHRING

That good-natured and congenial man whom we often see carrying out his duties in the cafeteria or at the desk in his office is Mr. Paul Mehring, assistant principal of our high school. Mr. Mehring is known to all and to those who forget their lunch money he is an especially good friend. He is in charge of the attendance records of the school and serves as the principal's right-hand man in many other capacities.

SECRETARY TO THE ASSISTANT PRINCIPAL

MISS LUCILLE P. SHUYLER

GUIDANCE

GUIDANCE COUNSELORS

Mr. Donald B. Tiziani
Miss N. Louise Ramer

Aiding development so that the student will be more capable and able to adjust to living is the ultimate object of the guidance program. Development is accomplished by having educational, vocational, and personal potentials advanced to the fullest extent. To facilitate these advancements the program has two phases. The first is group guidance carried on in homeroom and subject class groups. In this phase the homeroom teacher and the homeroom play the important role of clearing center for group problems. The second phase is individual guidance which meets specific needs. Here the guidance counselors, school nurse and high school principal are directors.

SECRETARY TO GUIDANCE COUNSELORS AND LIBRARIANS

Miss Donna J. Hetrick

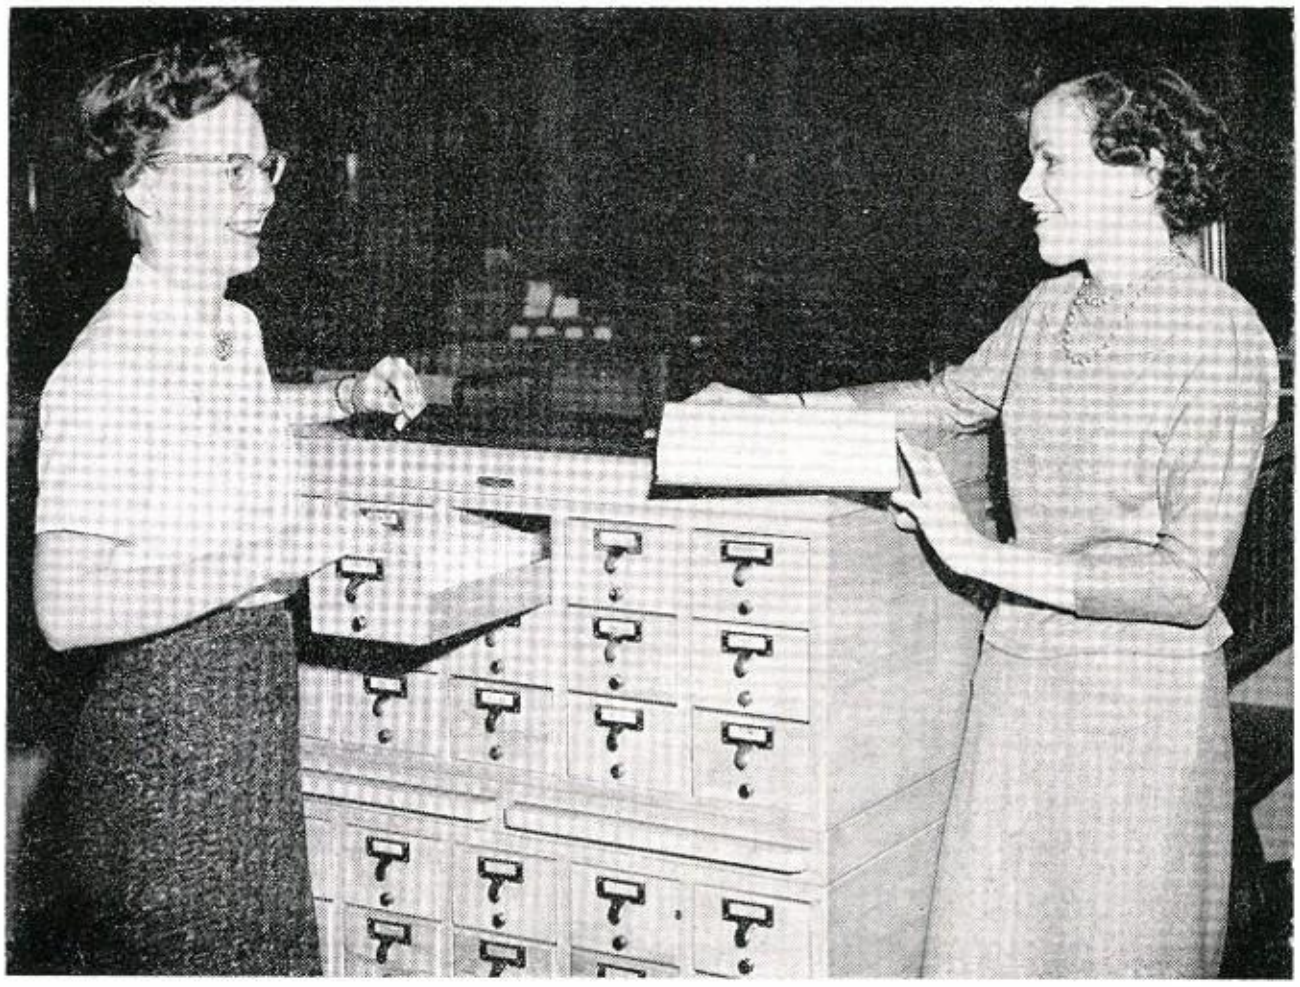
LIBRARY

LIBRARIANS

Miss Susan K. Wentz

AND

Miss Mary T. Quigley



The Gettysburg High School library is used to supplement the student's regular work and to provide recreational reading. This library possesses a collection of seven thousand books and many pamphlets and magazines. At the present time the room can seat 106 students, or more in the event of a special test or meeting.

Besides the main library there are five smaller adjoining rooms, three being used for conferences and meetings while the other two are used as workrooms by the librarians.

The facilities of our library are becoming more inclusive and more advanced. Through these advancements the students of Gettysburg High School will be offered many more beneficial opportunities.

CUSTODIANS

Second Row: C. Shriver, R. Tackett, M. Tressler.

The class of 1961 wishes to express most sincere thanks to the school cafeteria staff and the custodians. By the diligent labors of the cafeteria staff in preparing our lunches and those of the janitors in maintaining the building, many imperative and never ending jobs have been performed with extreme efficiency.

F A C U L T Y

ENGLISH

Seated: Mrs. Dorthea B. Hoffman, Miss A. Joan Thomas, Miss Mary I. Hartman, Miss Alice M. Snyder, Mrs. Ruth S. Wisler, Mrs. Margaret P. Deitz.

Standing: Mr. Jack E. Wise, Mr. Cornelius J. Manders, Mr. James R. Feather, Mr. Elmer J. Johnson, Mr. Edwin S. Longanecker (department head).

English is offered in grades seven through twelve, the only subject required in all six grades. Grammar and spelling are emphasized, as always. The amount of composition a student does weekly has been increased during the past year in order to meet the national standard. Book reports are required to strengthen the student's desire to read and to broaden his literary background.

FOREIGN

Four years of Latin, three years of Spanish, and two years of French are offered by the foreign language department. Language classes study vocabulary and grammar, take dictation, carry on conversations, write short compositions, read novels, magazines, and newspapers in the particular language which they are studying. The courses emphasize the strengthening of vocabulary and pronunciation via the daily study of words.

PHYSICAL EDUCATION AND HEALTH

Left to Right: Mr. James R. Feather, Mr. G. Donald Young, Mr. Edward R. Brownley, Mrs. Edith P. Reinhart, Mrs. Bette M. Forney, Mr. George S. Forney (department head).

Our physical education department is one of the best in the state. Courses are offered that help the student attain a high degree of physical and mental coordination. With group sports, such as touch football, field hockey, basketball, volleyball and softball, the students learn how to co-operate with others and carry responsibilities in group efforts. Calesthenics, mat work, archery, rope climbing, track, bar work and other individual sports help the student perfect his own physical skills.

LANGUAGES

FINE ARTS

Encouraging students to realize the aesthetic beauties of modern culture is the purpose of the fine arts department. Elective courses are presented that supplement the sudent's interest in art and music. Art is required in Junior High School, but is offered as an elective in Senior High. It may be taken as a major by interested students. For those interested in music, a wide program is scheduled. Music study must be taken as a Junior High subject. Interested students of all grades may participate in glee clubs, bands and the music theory club.

PRACTICAL

The practical arts department is one of interest and versatility. Teaching students the practical mechanics of creating useful and decorative objects, the general shop area presents working areas of wood, metal, leather and plastic. The agriculture course is designed for pupils who plan to pursue an occupation related to agriculture. Skills useful to the farmer are learned and put into practice. A course in homemaking provides opportunities for learning to perform household duties capably, making the best use of leisure time, and promoting wholesome family, community and international relationships.

SCIENCE AND MATHEMATICS

Second Row: Mr. Donald A. Ullrich (department head), Mr. Edward R. Brownley, Dr. Donald E. Lawver, Mr. Eugene A. Deardorff, Mr. Robert T. Yoder.
Third Row: Mr. Robert E. Sheads, Mr. Fred P. Haehnlen, Mr. David W. Woods, Mr. Ronald J. Bream.
Fourth Row: Mr. William R. Cadle.

The science and math courses presented at Gettysburg High School teach the student the fundamental principles governing life and the basic laws of the universe. Science courses available are beginning and advanced science, biology, physics, earth science and chemistry. Elementary math, Algebra I and II, plane and solid geometry, and plane trigonometry are the courses taught in the math department.

ARTS

Seated: Miss Nancy V. Kirk, Mrs. Berenice S. Krumrine, Miss Eva Jane Schwartz.
Standing: Mr. Allan R. Gray, Mr. Elmer H. Schriver, Mr. George W. Glenn, Mr. Charles R. Leader, Mr. Jack R. Corbin (department head).

SEVENTH GRADE INTEGRATED

The Integrated Program is designed to bridge the gap between elementary school, in which a student has only one teacher, and high school, in which a student has many teachers. This is effected in the seventh grade by combining the English and world history courses. It provides, more than any other course, a broad background in several basic fields of knowledge.

Mrs. Nancy J. Murdock, Mr. Charles W. Lilley, Mrs. Shirley H. Speir, Mrs. Mary E. Smith (department head).
Not in Picture: Mrs. EmyLu Martin.

BUSINESS EDUCATION

Mr. James R. Feather, Miss Gertrude B. Little, Miss Ruth A. Roland, Mr. Robert C. Diehl (department head).

After studying in the business education department of Gettysburg High School, a student has a broad background of knowledge in business requirements. Courses such as bookkeeping, business math, business English, typing, and shorthand prepare the student for such occupations as bookkeepers, accountants, secretaries, stenographers, clerks, and receptionists. Also offered is a course in office practice, in which the student receives valuable experience in operating modern office equipment.

SOCIAL STUDIES

Seated: Mr. C. Merrill Eckhart, Mr. Jacob M. Sheads, Miss Dorothy M. Boyer, Mr. Robert D. Fidler (department head).
Standing: Mr. John O'Brien, Mr. Donald E. Bickel, Mr. G. Donald Young, Mr. Patrick Kelly, Mr. Carl M. Schoenborn.

Social studies courses are offered which cover every age and every area of the globe. Students begin in the seventh grade with world history, American history in the eighth, civics in the ninth grade, world history in the tenth, American history in the eleventh grade and problems of demoracy and economics in the twelfth. All these courses include a weekly study of current events.

STAFF HEADS

Standing: Walter Griest (business manager), Ross Ramer (photographer), Richard Noel (sports editor), Forrest Craver (advertising manager).

Advisers: Mr. David Woods, Miss Jean McAnally.

Editing the Cannon-Aid is like putting together a huge scrapbook for the entire school, especially the seniors. Information and pictures are collected and sorted and shuffled until every detail is perfect. Then the pages are arranged and rearranged until the Cannon-Aid staff finally agrees on the layout.

Advertising, yearbook sales, and typing of the manuscript are additional facets of producing the Cannon-Aid.

We seniors have spent many hetic, but happy, hours producing our memories of Gettysburg High. All the crises, deadlines, and problems have been met and solved. The publication of this yearbook is an unforgetable experience to which the succeeding classes have to look forward.

STUDENT GOVERNMENT

Student government at Gettysburg High School consists of Junior High and Senior High Student Councils. Both groups discuss and act upon matters which arise from questions and ideas of the student body and the faculty. In the past year both councils undertook community projects and sponsored fund-raising projects. At the request of the student body, Senior High Council scheduled pep rallies and arranged for busses to away football and basketball games.

This year the American Field Service, which operates within the Student Council, sponsored a dual exchange student program for Gettysburg. Charles Korte spent the summer and one school semester in Norway, and Hendrati Insijah from Indonesia pursued her studies at Gettysburg High for the entire school session.

Editorial and business staffs comprise the "Maroon and White." The editorial staff is responsible for editing the newspaper, for which the business staff handles finances. Each year when senior staff members relegate their positions to journalists of the under classes, the new staff members give recognition to the retiring staff at a banquet.

Juniors and seniors who have been recommended by advisers, can be honored by receiving membership to the local Quill and Scroll, an international honorary society for journalists.

DRAMATICS

Opportunities throughout the year are given to students to obtain dramatic experience in both acting and committee work by participating in the production of full-length plays and one-act plays. This experience is available to all interested students. Faithful work in acting and serving on committees provide credit toward membership into Mask and Wig Dramatic Club, and in turn, membership into the National Thespian Dramatic Society.

During the past year, the members of the Future Homemakers of America presented programs related to homemaking, including skits, guest speakers and movies. They assumed responsibility for maintaining the refreshment stand at the football games and sponsored numerous social activities, including hayrides and skating parties.

The hard-working members of the Future Farmers of America assist in maintaining the refreshment stand at the games and participate in contests at various fairs and shows in this area. Since the F.F.A. is a club for Agriculture students, all activities are conducted to help train members for rural leadership.

NATIONAL HONOR SOCIETY

Membership in the National Honor Society is the highest award that a student may receive for all-around excellence and is awarded only to seniors who are superior in scholarship, leadership, character, and service. Membership, not to exceed 15 per cent of the graduating class, is determined by the faculty.

The Future Teachers of America is an organization open to senior high students who desire to acquire full knowledge of opportunities and requirements for a teaching career. Actual experience is available through the cadet teaching program, which functions at both the elementary and secondary level. This year the club has conducted interesting programs dealing with varied aspects of teaching. As a fund-raising project the group sold Christmas candles. To finish the busy year, an F.T.A. banquet was held.

F B L A

The Future Business Leaders of America is composed of commercial students who perform services for the school and community. This year they were in charge of play tickets and conducted surveys to discover how well the commercial students were being prepared to meet the needs of the community and the local businessmen.

Student librarians voluntarily forfeit study halls to work in the library, and some work before and after school. A team of two is scheduled for each period. Each assistant alternates duties with his co-worker. Some of the duties are charging materials, slipping books, arranging shelves, preparing notices for overdue and reserved books, filing materials, preparing displays, assisting in taking inventory, and other duties relating to library techniques. Much responsibility is placed upon the apprentice librarians.

SENIOR DANCE LINE

First Row: M. B. Hughes (choreographer).

One of the liveliest groups this year was the Hi-Lites, a modern dance group composed of senior girls, with Mary Beth Hughes as choreographer and director. Besides presenting many snappy performances at the Fall Dance, basketball games, and the senior class Christmas party, the girls studied the history of dancing and the lives of famous dancers.

STRING ORCHESTRA

The orchestra has been recently formed and played at the Junior High Christmas program as well as at the Instrumental Night of Music. At the tri-weekly meeting, the members learn music appreciation and prepare for future programs.

1-2-3 . . . . Forward . . . . march! The Gettysburg Senior and Junior High School Bands were on the march this year providing valuable services to the school and community. The bands appeared at football games, pep rallies, assemblies, the Tenth Annual Night of Music, the Halloween and Memorial Day parades, and the Dedication Day ceremonies at the National Cemetery. A highlight on the agenda of the Senior Band was a trip to the New York Coliseum to play a salute to former President Eisenhower. Always seen with the bands were the faithful majorettes who added a bit of zest to every engagement with their snappy routines.

Bottom: Jennifer Hess.

Top: Sally McCullough.
Bottom: Kit Sleichter.

Those girls who endeavor to keep the true meaning of "spirit" alive in the hearts of athletes and spectators, be it in victory or defeat, are our Gettysburg High School cheerleaders.

The cheerleaders have a big responsibility in arousing school spirit and good sportsmanship in the school's athletic contests. They work hard to instill in the students a strong sense of loyalty and devotion to their school; to increase the attendance at the school athletic contests and obtain the cooperation and respect of the students.

From the Westminster game in early September to the Carlisle disaster in early November, the Warrior football tide ebbed and ebbed until it could be considered to exist no longer.

The Gettysburg High Warriors, 1960 version, displayed the least impressive brand of football ever seen at GHS by stumbling through a nine game slate without a victory or even the slightest semblance of one. The opponents of the hapless Maroon and White eleven racked up a walloping 318 points to G-burg's 37, averaging about the same number of points per game as the Warriors scored all year.

Coach Young's boys several times, notably in the Littlestown and Nighthawk encounters, powered their way toward paydirt like rambling rhinos early in the game, but unfortunately bobbled their scoring opportunities and immediately thereafter collapsed and handed over easy victories to their opponents with hardly a battle.

A few optimists had still hoped for at least a single victory when the finale rolled around with the South Penn Conference Champs, at Carlisle. The final defeat at the hands of the mighty Herd to the tune of 68-0 (an all-time record for the number of points scored against a G-Burg football squad) made unbelievers out of the most avid Warrior fan.

However, credit must be given to the coaching staff and the boys on the squad who gave their all throughout the season, knowing that a winning season was far out of reach.

The Gettysburg Warriors enjoyed their best season in thirteen years. Directed by Coach George Forney, the Warriors advanced all the way to the District 3 finals. Sparked by the combination of a strong competitive spirit and splended team effort, the mighty Warriors chalked up a commendable overall slate of 16-5.

FORNEYMEN WIN SOUTH PENN TITLE

After winning the second half of the South Penn Conference, the Warriors again met Carlisle, the first half winners, for the championship. The encounter took place on February 24 on a neutral court at Chambersburg. This spine-tingling contest will never be forgotten in the basketball memoirs of GHS. Going nip-and-tuck for the first three periods, the Warriors held a 29-26 lead going into the last quarter. The score see-sawed in this period but the Warriors managed to come out on top, 38-37, to become the South Penn Champions of the 1960-61 season.

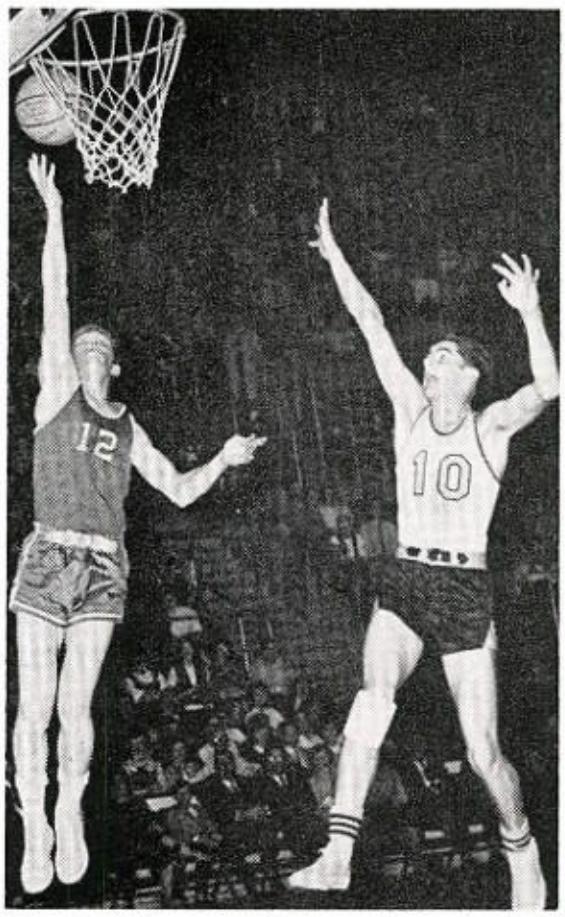
Two for Waddell and the team.

WARRIORS TO VICTORY

Earning the South Penn title automatically placed the Warriors in the semi-finals of the District 3 playoffs after drawing a bye for the first round. On the night of Wednesday, March 8, the team traveled to the Hershey Sports Arena to meet Solanco of Lancaster County. The Warriors, again spurred by the great teamwork they showed in league play, beat Solanco 58-43. Next came the game with Reading on Monday evening, March 13. The Warriors were only trailing 36-33 going into the final frame but were unable to pull ahead. The Forneymen bowed to Reading 57-39, thus ending a thrilling season for players and fans of GHS.



Maitland scores after stealing the ball from an astonished Solanco man.

The 1960 baseball season was one of success. Receiving fine pitching from Don Coldsmith and Wayne Fissel, the Warriors compiled a six-win, four-loss record. They finished third in the South Penn Conference, outranked only by the league champions, Chambersburg and Biglerville, which participated in more conference games.

When the Warriors traveled to Chambersburg to play, they were still in the thick of the conference race. The Warriors, who were the only team left with a chance at the conference title, were leading 1-0 as the game went into the late innings, but Chambersburg secured the runs necessary to put the game, and the Warrior hopes, out of reach.

From this point on, the Youngmen, who had an all-around well balanced team, were out of league play, but went on to defeat Delone and Westminster. Foul weather led to the cancellation of four of the fourteen games and left the Warriors with a winning season.

Excitement, victory and defeat characterized the 1960 track and field season. The Warriors, who fared exceptionally well in dual meets by winning three and dropping none, were not quite so fortunate in meets involving three or more contestants. Led by captain Mike Small, the Warrior cindermen tied for fourth place in the conference meet, came in third in a quadrangular meet at Hanover and failed to place in the Invitational Meet at Shippensburg.

Mike Small, James Townsend and Jason Gulden led the Forneymen in the dashes, while strong support in the longer runs was furnished by William Ketterman and Roger Ecker. Adding more victories and prestige to the season were the field events handled by Richard Scott, Donald Waddell and George Hayberger. When comparing the ratio of wins to losses, the 1960 track and field season must be considered a successful one.

The Girls Athletic Association's main purpose is to promote good sportsmanship and love of sports throughout the female part of Gettysburg High School.

During the year, many sports are played. In the fall the hockey sticks chop the girls' athletic field until it looks like a duffer's golf course. After hockey weather has succumbed to frosty weather, volleyball becomes the main sport. After volleyball season, the major winter sport, basketball, finds itself in the spotlight. When the weather becomes fair again, softball makes its debut.

Participation in sports activities is rewarded by accumulation of points. A Minor G is awarded with 70 points, numerals with 90 points, and a Major G with 110 points. The highest award which can be received is the golden pin and is awarded annually to the girl who has acquired the most points from seventh through twelfth grades.

Bouncing back from two early season losses to Shippensburg's Greyhounds 14 to 0 and to Chambersburg Faust 33 to 7, the Gettysburg Junior High gridders romped home to a 4 and 2 season's log and a third place berth in their league race.

Coach Bickel's Braves squeaked by Waynesboro 6-0 after an opening defeat at the hands of the league titlist Faust Crew. A loss to the Greyhounds offset by a thrilling 12-7 triumph over the Bulldogs of Washington Township evened the young Warriors' record at 2 and 2.

In their final two contests the Braves topped Chambersburg Central 7 to 6 and a scrappy Hanover outfit 20 to 6.

It was a total team effort and steadfast defensive play that boosted the Braves over the hump in the middle of the season after they had dropped two important games. Coaches Bickel and Kelly certainly deserve plaudits for the excellent way they handled the Junior High eleven all season.

COACHES

Mr. Charles Lilley and Mr. John Maloney

The Junior High Spiders, coached by Mr. Maloney and Mr. Lilley, wrapped up the first undefeated, untied and unscored-upon season in the annals of football at Gettysburg by lambasting Biglerville's Little Canners, 20-0.

Previously, the splendid Spiders had clobbered Boiling Springs and Chambersburg Central.

The crushing defensive play of the Spiders frustrated all their opponents and allowed their sharp passing combination and swift running attack to knife up huge chunks of ground on offense.

The combination of quarterback Finkboner to either left end Jones or right end Doaks clicked for 4 TD's all season and a good portion of the team's offensive yardage. When they needed the short gain for first downs, the Spiders called on the services of Ron Plank who also racked up a pair of six-pointers in addition to carrying the brunt of the ground attack.

Congratulations to our victorious Spiders.

The Junior High Girls' Athletic Association is a smaller version of the Senior High organization. Hockey in the fall, volleyball and basketball in the winter, and softball in the spring comprise the agenda for the young lasses.

Points are awarded by participation in these sports and a Minor G can be earned by the end of the freshman year with the accumulation of seventy points.

A player doesn't officially obtain membership into the G.A.A. until initiation in the sophomore year, but the Junior High G.A.A. prepares her for the more skilled games of the Senior High G.A.A. This organization's main purpose is to teach physical fitness and good sportsmanship to every member. By actually playing the games, technical as well as physical training is relayed to the players.

The Junior High Varsity, coached by Mr. Carl Schoenborn, began its season by losing its first four games. As the season progressed, the team began to improve and play more impressively. In their fifth encounter, the Braves walloped Washington Township, 30-18. The team went on to win its next home game by upsetting Shippensburg 43-39. The Braves exhibited their best form of the season by capitalizing on fast breaks and playing highly-spirited ball throughout the contest. During the second half of play, Gettysburg managed to win one more game which was against Waynesboro. Doug Bream snared a rebound with 30 seconds remaining and dropped in the winning goal to nip the Indians, 35-34. The varsity lost their last three games and finished with a 3-7 log.

The Junior High Jayvees were only able to sport a 3-7 record for the 1960-61 campaign. Continually led by the fine performances of Donald Doaks and Dick Finkboner, who averaged 9.8 and 9.4 points, respectively, Coach Don Bickel's reserves beat Waynesboro, Shippensburg, and Washington Township during the first half of play.

The jayvees could not post a win in the second half. Three games were lost by a total of 9 points. Chambersburg Faust squeaked past Gettysburg, 33-32, Washington Township beat them, 31-30 in the final seconds of the game, and the jayvees succumbed to a blistering 23 point spree by Waynesboro jayvees in the last quarter of play.

Educated People Save

It is told that Indians of Paraguay plowed all day with oxen and then killed the oxen for supper. The primitive mind gave no thought to the morrow. The habit of saving is the mark of the educated man and woman. Also, it is one of the privileges enjoyed in a free America.
